The Steubenville Herald says that the case is a mysterious one, likely to arouse a big sensation. Miss Simpson had been making her home with Mr. Smith for some time, and has been receiving attentions from two young men, one of them named Smith, residing at Welfsburg. On last Sanday afternoon at two clock she was taken violently ill, and her attending physician at one two o'clock she was taken violently ill, and her attending physician, at once suspected arsenical poison, but the girl persistently denied taking it. Everything was done to relieve her agony, but in vain. Since her death letters have been discovered which leave no doubt of the poison, but by whom administered will be the subject of an investigation. The case was creating a furore at Mingo yesterday afternoon. Coroner Starr, of Steubenville, went to Mingo at noon, and as a result of an investigation by himself and Mayor Stewart, of Mingo, the man Smith, of Wellsburg, whose letters have something to do with the case, was arrested and is now in jail. Smith is said to be and is now in jail. Smith is said to be

It was decided to go to work at once, and a dozen stalwart farmers were sworn n as special constables. Tuesday more ag court convened and from that until ing court convened and from that until 5 p. m. the special constables were busy bringing in offenders. Hundreds were out to see the fun. The total number of arrests for the day was twenty-six. Theft, disturbing schools and church services, wife whipping and drunkenness were charged. Not one escaped punishment. Some were fined, some bound over to higher court, some were limorisoned and two were sent to the inh, commenced a three nights engagement at the Grand last night, presenting their comedy drama "The Boy Tramp."

These two artists are well remembered here as was evinced by the large audience that gathered to greet them and their clever supporting company. The play was nicely staged and each charneter was ably handled. Augustin Neuville, in the character of the tramp, deplets the usual carelessness and indifferences to things in general of this genius.
He is a clever comedian, and his work
won for him unstinted applause.
The play of "Casper, the Yodler,"

We are not deciples of Bellamy: that gentleman's "Jooking Backward" has no charms for us.—We are too progressive for that.—We look ahead and keep ahead of all others in our line of business.—We are the people's advance agents—Looking to their welfare—providing for their comfort and studying their interests. Buying for spot cash and in large quantities enables us to offer you goods at 20 per cent less than you will pay elsewhere.—It means dollars in your pocket—Andlet us say right here that we can keep dollars in your pocket.—Others have tried and failed and we stand alone to-day, recognized as the pioneers of low prices and small profits—As restless—tire less merchauts, always awake to public needs at popular prices.
